

THE BOSTON MORNING GLOBE.

PUBLISHED DAILY, AT NO. 21 WATER STREET, BY BEALS & GREENE. CHARLES GORDON GREENE, EDITOR.
VOLUME 110. NO. 42. WEDNESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 31, 1834. PRICE $6 PER ANN. IN ADVANCE.

LITERARY.

SCENE FROM AN UNFINISHED PLAY.

BY JAMES WHELAN KNOWLES.

A hall in Sir Philip Stanmore's country house.—Sir Philip Stanmore, Willrake, Morton, and others, seated round a table, drinking.

SIR PHILIP. Our cheer is yet to come, For I expect my merry nephew here.

SERVANT, (entering.) Sir Philip, Master Willford is coming.

SIR PHILIP, (rising and coming forward.) Thou varlet, wherefore then dost thou not show him in?

SERVANT. He's here, Sir Philip.

WITFORD, (entering.) Dear Sir Philip Stanmore!

SIR PHILIP. You're welcome, nephew, to your uncle's house. I say you're welcome.—Use it as your own.

WITFORD. I live in or out of it, as your honor lists. Abroad we're sports to give you, cheer within, We're to spare the only thing we grudge.

SIR PHILIP. I thank you, Sir.

WITFORD. Then thank me, heartily: Thanks that are cold are none—or thank me not. You should not thank me. Is it not your uncle's house, Who might as well bid welcome to himself, As this?

WITFORD. Indeed I thank you kindly, Sir.

SIR PHILIP. I know you do!—How are you?—What's the news? What pranks have you played since last we saw you here? What scrapes have you been in? And what fine escapes have you made? Adventure is the blood of youth. It cannot live without.

WITFORD, (abstractedly.) I am very glad to see you well.

SIR PHILIP. You're glad to see me well? I would I could be glad to see thee well. Your gladness will not die, methinks, of joy! I'm glad you're glad! What guests are these, To bring into my house?

WITFORD. I have brought no guests!

SIR PHILIP. In faith, you have; nor are they welcome ones. This rugged speech—these eyes that no discourse Or absent thoughts—these cheeks, whereon hangs out The ensign of a care-besieged heart, Smileless and listless to all thought of cheer, What tells thee, nephew? Art thou sick, or what? Hast lost at play? Hast quarrelled with a friend? Or hast been cross'd by love?

WITFORD. I'm only tired.

SIR PHILIP. I've not been used to ride so far of late. Your roads are bad—most villainous bad roads. My horse is new, was injured in the break, Or, of his paces I'm not master yet. I doubt my groom may saddle must have changed. I scarcely know my seat—besides, I think, In looking for a nearer way, at least I must have gone a dozen miles about.

SIR PHILIP. Sure journey his that smiles not at the end! But let it pass. Some guests I have, you say, and here I'm of the world free denizen, Whose board is spread for all the world to see. So come with me to the pack, to meet their robes. Think't hear a sprightly song—a merry tale—A hearty laugh—things that are sure to make A poor leaver rich—how rich then richest cheer!

WITFORD. I'll join the company.

SIR PHILIP. And prithee speed. Thy spirits up. Men are like instruments, Whereof if one plays out of tune, the rest, Though there be a dozen, will be marred, And so the concert spoilt. In time, my nephew!

Sir Philip resumes the head of the table.

WITFORD, (to himself.) I could be so, were I to meet with men That did converse to talk of broken hopes! Each other's tale the saddest—mine most sad! Most strange!—decreed to only look and love! To love for ever! but to see—no more!

Witford takes his seat at the table.

SIR PHILIP. Well, Master Willrake, talk you of the chase! To hear you, one doth feel the bounding steed—You bring the hounds, and game, and all to view, All sounding to the merry huntsman's cheer! And yet I pity the poor crowned deer, And always fancy his by fortune's spite, That lordly head of his he bears so high—Like virtue, stately in calamity.

And hunted by the human, worldly hound!—Is made to fly before the pack, that straight Must into song at prospect of his death! You say their cry is melody; and yet Their chorus scarce is music to my ear, When I bethink me what it sounds to his; Nor call I sweet the note that rings the knell Of the once happy forest!—But come, For pity of the deer, we must not kill Our mirth. A song, methinks, you promised us; And well you know to sing one—Pray you though Begin not yet. Fill, friends!—Now begin. The mellow wine to music—Now begin.

WILDRAKE sings.

Hark, hallow!—are you up my boys?—Awake!—'tis broad day!

Ere you're fair in your saddles, the morning's away! Were you true sons of Nimrod, I warrant are they. Your dogs were uncouth!—Awake!—'tis broad day!

Hark! to cover! to cover!—The chase to pursue, You should mount ere the sun—not the sun before you! Hark, hallow!—hark!—hark!—hark!—hark! hallow! He's the sportsman for me, to the minute that's true!

Hark, Hallow!—There's the stag!—Now were fairly away!

You'll hear music, if never before, boys, to-day! Who regards ditch or gate, he's a sportsman by name! Over all!—keep your eye on the dogs and the game! Whostrail, boys!—Well done, boys!—One hour of such life!

Though it cost one a life, should be purchased by me! Hark, hallow!—hark!—hark!—hark!—hark! hallow! That's the tune! when we send like the wind, boys! 'Twill do!

Hark, hallow!—he's at bay!—Who's the churl to give in? Carry on!—What's a neck to the glory we'll win! No more than a ditch, boys!—That field the first o'er, Is a hero the proudest that stood ever before!

Dash away, boys!—Well done, boys!—Where all are so true, He who bears off the palm, none will doubt, wins his due! Hark, hallow!—hark!—hark!—hark!—hark! hallow! 'Tis hunting the deer, boys, to hunt him with you!

The company applaud.

SIR PHILIP. Thanks, Master Willrake for your song.

WILDRAKE. A toast: SIR PHILIP. Fill, gentlemen, to Master Willrake's toast.

WILDRAKE. I'll give you Kate—of pretty maids the queen!

WITFORD. What lady speak you of?

WILDRAKE. A lady maid—Of Mrs Cheery's bar the Hebe now.

WITFORD. A bar-maid! Well, I drink her pretty health.

WILDRAKE. You smile, Sir; but there's not in Maidstone—no, Nor twenty miles around, the lady fair, In beauty, mistress to any lady maid!

WITFORD. A wagger, Sir, on that!

WILDRAKE. A score of pounds.

WITFORD. A gross, and please you!

WILDRAKE. Be it so.

WITFORD. 'Tis done!

Meet me, to-morrow, Sir, at the King's Head.

Your friends along with you. By their award We'll both abide.

Content! Sir Philip's health! Give you good-night.

SIR PHILIP. Come, Willrake, let us part In harmony.

WILDRAKE. A chorus, be it then.

Chorus. Here's a health, and good night, my brave boys—for the Of parting to-night, a sweet solace is near!—The bond that unites joyful friends to-morrow!—Our cheer but expires, to revive brighter cheer.

The pleasure of meeting Improves by repeating. When souls meet together, like those that meet here.

[Exit omnes.]

BIRD ON CLOCK AND WATCH MAKING. For sale by B. D. MUSSEY, 29 Cornhill. d30

BAR KEEPER.—A young man, who can be well recommended, would like a situation as Bar Keeper—apply to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d24

COBBETT'S LIFE OF JACKSON.—For sale by B. D. MUSSEY, 29 Cornhill. 25 cts. d30

CHECK BOOKS, of all the City Banks, for sale at 96 and 98 State street by OLIVER HOLMAN. d31

CASH TO LET.—In Small Sum—by U. J. CLARK, No 4 Brattle square. d32

COTE ROTIE.—50 cases this superior wine for sale at 100 State street by JAMES LEEDS, Jr. & CO. No 13 Long wharf. may 12

CAMPEACHY LOGWOOD.—200 tons first quality for sale by KENDALL & KINGSBURY, 17 India wharf. d21—epist

CITY INTELLIGENCE OFFICE, for the mutual benefit of Domestic and their employers, No 4 Brattle square. nov 1

DR. MILLER, has removed from Franklin st. to this city and taken rooms at Mrs. DOWNEY'S, No 36 Milk-street. Dr. M. will attend to calls in the country, as heretofore. Boston, Aug. 25, 1834. d

EXTRA QUALITY Blue Black Pelisse Satins—a few pieces for sale by S. S. LYNDY. d9

EMBROIDERED WORSTED HOSE.—Patented FLOOR CLOTHS—for sale by S. S. LYNDY. d8

EMPLOYMENT.—Strangers and citizens in want of occupation can always obtain desirable situations by applying to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d27

FRENCH COTTON FLANNELS.—For sale by S. S. LYNDY, Pemberton Hill. d25

F. NOR SALE.—A three story House in Union st.—a new two story brick House in South st.—apply to W. P. COCHRAN, 112 Court st. d13

FRESH ZANTE CURRANTS AND FILBERTS.—For sale by JAMES ANDREWS & SON, No. 8, Central-Wharf. d11

FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING, TOKEN, and other Annals for 1835, for sale at the South End Book Store, near Boylston Market, by JAMES B. DOW. d12

FOR SALE.—An estate in Dorchester—also, an estate in Chelsea—apply to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange street. d22

GENTLEMEN'S WHITE SILK GLOVES.—For sale by S. S. LYNDY, Pemberton Hill. d20

GERMAN MOCCASINS.—One case, assorted sizes, of the above seasonal article, just received, and for sale by E. K. WHITAKER. epist

GROUND LOGWOOD.—In tierces and bbls, warranted Campeachy wood—for sale by KENDALL & KINGSBURY, 17 India wharf. epist

HIDES.—400 St. Domingo and 320 Buenos Ayres Hides, for sale by F. E. WHITE, 22 Long wharf. d4

HEATH'S BOOK OF BEAUTY FOR 1835.—Containing numerous splendid Engravings—for sale by MARSH, CAPEN & LYON. d23

JOHNSTON'S SCRAPS FOR 1835.—Just published and for sale at MARSH'S, 31 Washington st. d12

LOGWOOD.—18 tons of superior St. Domingo—for sale by GEORGE P. THOMAS, No 23 India street. d29

LEECHES.—10,000 Foreign Leeches, large size, just received, and for sale at GEYER'S Apothecary Store, 140 Hanover street, corner of Salem st. oct 21

MINIATURE SETTINGS.—A good assortment of Miniature Settings, just received at A. CUTLER'S 217 Washington st. opposite Franklin st. d17

MESS BEEF.—50 bbls Mess Beef, Boston Inspection—for sale by KENDALL & KINGSBURY, 17 India wharf. d25

NEW MILLINERY.—S. H. BRIGHAM has received next, and will open her winter fashions this morning Pemberton Hill, opposite head of Hanover st. d20

DEW WANTED.—Wanted half a pew in the Rev Dr Lowell's Church. Apply at this office. oct 6

PALM OIL.—25 casks for sale by KENDALL & KINGSBURY, 17 India wharf. d30

PEW FOR SALE.—Pew No 12 broad aisle, in Rev'd Mr Streeter's Meeting house—by GEO P. THOMAS, 23 India st. d29

PARIS PATTERNS.—5 cartons needle work Lace and Muslin Collars and Fishersetts, unusually low—just received by S. S. LYNDY. d13

PERCUSSION CAPS.—100 M. large size Percussion Caps, for sale by J. HATCH, Jr. 63 Congress street. oct 21—ist

PERFORATED CARDS.—Received this day, several new patterns Lace Cards, Board, etc., at MARSH'S, 31 Washington st. d11

QUILLS.—1 case assorted numbers—just received and for sale by B. D. MUSSEY, 29 Cornhill. d17

RICH FIGURED SILKS.—75 CHEAP.—S. S. LYNDY will sell 25 rich fig'd Silks at 75 cts.—same as have recently been sold at $1 1/2. d20

REAL ERMINE ROBES.—One very superb real Ermine Robe, warranted perfect, just received, and for sale low by E. K. WHITAKER. 2wist oct 6

SITUATION WANTED.—By a young man to work in a stable—apply at 4 Brattle square. d33

SITUATION WANTED.—By a young man as bar keeper—also, a young man wants a place to work in a stable—apply to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d19

THE AMERICAN QUARTERLY REVIEW FOR DECEMBER, this day received by MARSH, CAPEN & LYON, Agents. d20

TO LET.—Part of a house on Charles st. Also—parts of houses in other parts of the city—apply at 4 Brattle square. d30

TO LET.—Part of a house in Milk street, Also—half a brick house in Warren st. rent 125,00 per year—apply to C. OTHANK'S office, No 14 Milk st. d27

TO LET, a Front Room in Leverett street, suitable for a professional gentleman. apply at No 112 Court street. d20

WOOD ON RAIL ROADS.—For sale by B. D. MUSSEY, 29 Cornhill. d30

WILLIAM H. ROGERS' Imperial Stock Manufactory, No 6 Joy's Buildings. may 17

WANTED.—A man and wife to work in a private family—apply at 4 Brattle square. d30

WANTED, on mortgage of Real Estate $800 on Garden street, Boston. Apply to U. J. CLARK, 4 Brattle square. d18

100 RUSH, PRIME EASTERN APPLES, in good order—just received—and for sale by S. E. BENSON, No 42 Commercial st. d29

M. KRAMER & CO. inform the public generally that they have received by the last arrivals from Europe, several valuable Musical Clocks, one of which, called the Medallion, performs several concertos and marches, and is an elegant piece of furniture for a parlor.

Also—several wooden figures, calculated as models for Painters, which can be placed in any position required—being all jointed.

Also—several cases of Pocket Locking Glasses, calculated for exportation.

Also—a large assortment of Beads of every description and color, and a large assortment of Toys—which they offer for sale, by wholesale and retail, at their store, No 43 Cornhill, formerly Market st.

NEW MEDICAL WORK.—This day published, and for sale at No 34 High street, Boston, a medical work, entitled "The American Physician, and Family Assistant, in four parts—containing 1, a general description of vegetable medicine, chiefly the productions of our own country—2d, the manner of preparing them for general use—3d, a description of various diseases, and manner of curing them by the regular Doctors, under the name of medicines—3d edition. Price $1.50, single—$12 per doz.

By ELIAS SMITH, Physician. Boston, Nov. 5, 1834. d24

NOTICE.—The co-partnership existing between the subscribers is this day by mutual consent dissolved. The affairs of the concern will be adjusted by E. K. Whitaker. E. K. WHITAKER. A. R. PROTHINGHAM.

Boston, Aug. 12, 1834.

The subscriber intends to close the affairs of the late firm, entirely, before January next; and, in addition to a very valuable stock, imported principally the present year, and which will be disposed of at a large sacrifice—he has just received 10 cases French Goods, comprising Silks, Blouses, Shawls, Flannels, &c. which having arrived out of season, will be sold at cost of importation. E. K. WHITAKER, 93 Washington st. (up stairs) aug 12—epist

CLOTHING, CHEAP.—R. C. KEMP, Draper and Tailor, No 34 Merchants' Row, offers for sale, at very reduced prices, for cash only, an extensive assortment of ready made Clothing, consisting of Dress and Frock Coats, Cloth and Peterham Suits, Gaiters Hair and Linen Camlet Cloths and Wrappers, Lion Skin and Pilot Cloth Top Coats, Cloth Jackets, Pantalons, Vests, Shirts, Stocks, Hosiery, Gloves, Drawers and every other article usually found in such an establishment.

Gentlemen wishing to purchase, will find it to their advantage to call and examine for themselves, as the above stocks are all fresh and worthy of the attention of purchasers. oct 20—iscpt

WHITNEY BLANKETS.—1 bale super quality just received on consignment, and for sale by E. K. WHITAKER, No 93 Washington street, up stairs. d31

EMPLOYMENT WANTED.—Several active, industrious men want employment in families—two first rate coachmen want situations—several capable young men want places in stores—an experienced bar tender wants a situation—also, a young man of good character and business habits wants a situation either as an indoor or outdoor clerk to some wholesale establishment, suitable employment being more of an object than salary—any person wanting any of the above help can be supplied gratis, by applying to W. P. COCHRAN, 112 Court st. d22

NOTICE.—Just received, 3,760 pr Rubber Shoes, of the very best quality, and at the lowest price. Also—1000 pr lined and bound—a very neat article. Likewise, constantly on hand, a large assortment of Boots, Shoes, and Leather, wholesale and retail.

N. B. Old Rubber taken in exchange for new, and a fair price given by MORSE & TOWLE, At No 85 Court street, Boston. d20

GENTLEMEN in want of good articles adapted to the present or approaching season, will do well to call on No 10 Cornhill street, where a splendid assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres and fancy Vestings, just received. Also, on hand a large assortment of Ready Made Clothing. oct 20 N. P. SNELLING

TIME SUBSCRIBER, grateful for past favors, resolves to inform his friends and the public that he continues to manufacture Edge Tools of every description, of the first quality and from the best materials, at No 12 Water street, Charlestown, and hopes by unremitting exertions to merit a continuance of public patronage. July 7 RUSSELL C. BENSON.

ACCOUNT BOOKS.—Constantly for sale by JOHN MARSH, 31 Washington st. Account Books of all the usual patterns, made of fine line paper, and bound in the most approved style. Also, Account Books for the country trade. Also, Blank Books and Manuscripts for Schools, of every description, at the lowest prices. oct 11

PORTRAIT, MINIATURE AND FRUIT PAINTING.—REUBEN ROWLEY respectfully announces to the citizens of Boston and vicinity, that he continues to paint Portraits, Miniatures, and Fruit Pieces, of various sizes and prices. Gentlemen and ladies are respectfully invited to call at his rooms in Pearl Place, No 11, and examine his specimens. His exhibition room will be open all hours of the day, from 9 o'clock A. M. until 6 P. M. oct 4

BEAVER HATS, CAPS, &c.—A splendid assortment of Beaver and other Hats, are kept constantly on hand at HARRY'S Commission Store, where also may be found every description of Caps, of every kind of fashion and color—Gentlemen's Gloves, of various descriptions—silk and cotton Umbrellas, &c., &c. epist—d25

WANTED TO RENT, on or before the 1st of March next, a genteel house, near the centre of the town—containing a basement room on the first floor, and Parlors and Chambers above, sufficient to accommodate four or five gentlemen and ladies. Application to be made to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange street. d25

NEW YEAR.—The subscriber has just received on consignment, 4 boxes, containing 40 embroidered Nankin Cape Crapes. The above very beautiful article (the first of the kind in this country) will be opened this morning, and just in season for New Year's Presents. For sale by E. K. WHITAKER. d29

WANTED.—A young man to work in a hotel. A young man to work in a private family. Several young men to learn the painters' trade. Several men to obtain subscribers—apply to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d29

WANTED.—An intelligent, active person, who can furnish the best of recommendations as regards character, capacity, &c., will hear of a situation as clerk, by leaving his address and reference with J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d29

SPLENDID LONDON ANNUALS FOR 1835. For sale by JOHN MARSH, 31 Washington st. all the English and American Annals—among the most choice are the Oriental, containing 22 Engravings—English do—Landscape do—Picturesque do—Friendship's Offering, &c. d20

NOTICE.—Any person having the lease of a centrally situated Bar Room, with fixtures and stock for the same, which they wish to dispose of, can find a person who will take the lease, and pay cash for the stock, by applying to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d19

10 BARRELS ENG. REFINED BORAX, 25 bbls Saltpetre, 500 lbs Oxalic Acid, 300 lbs Carb. Ammonia, 2000 lbs Paris Sul Soda—for sale by FLETCHER & HAYWARD, No 2 India street. epist—July 18

SITUATION WANTED.—By a middle aged man from the country, who is strongly recommended for his civil and moral worth, as assistant in a store—apply to J. A. SILLOWAY, Exchange st. d20

THE LIFE OF GENERAL LAFAYETTE, A new Edition, with a Portrait, and fac simile of his handwriting. The Cruise of the Midge, 2d volume, for sale by MARSH, CAPEN & LYON. d23

WANTED.—12 men to obtain subscribers. Also—a boy in a fruit cellar. Also—a clerk in an office, one who is a good writer. Also—a first rate man cook in a hotel. Also—several American girls in families—apply at 112 Court street. d13

TO LET.—A house in Church street containing 4 rooms Part of a house on Sea street, rent $105. Part of a house on Blackstone street, rent $100. Also—a house in Cambridge place—apply to U. J. CLARK, No 4 Brattle square. d17

WANTED.—Several young men to obtain subscribers. Also—a man to work in a boarding house. Also—several boys to learn trades. Also—boys to work in families. For the above apply at No 14 Milk st. d27

A CARD TO THE LADIES.—T. O. TRISCALL, is constantly making a splendid assortment of Satin Bonnet Bonnets at his factory, Congress square and 28 State street. d5

ACCORDIANS.—WARREN THAYER, No 22 Hanover st. has received this day, a few elegant Rosewood Accordians, with pearl and brass keys, and will be sold very low. d5

ACCOUNT BOOKS, manufactured of the best paper in the most faithful manner and warranted, are constantly for sale, and will be made to pattern by OLIVER HOLMAN, 96 and 98 State street. aug 27

AT N. P. SNELLING'S, No 10 Congress st. may be found a prime assortment of seasonal goods, all of which will be made to order in the most workmanlike manner and most reasonable terms. d19

BONNET FLOWERS.—Just received at W. THAYER, 22 Hanover st., one case elegant Bonnet Flowers, new patterns, are for sale low. Ladies in want of a new and beautiful article will do well to call before purchasing. nov 6

BLACK FRENCH CLOTHS.—J. G. WYMAN has received 4 pieces of the above valuable Cloths, of very extra fine quality, which he will be order to order into Gentle men's Garments in the latest and best style. n 3

BLONDE GOODS.—One case just received, containing Demi-Veils, Scarfs and Hdkfs. Also, one case more wadded Robes, new patterns and extra sizes—for sale very low by E. K. WHITAKER. d14

COLORADO PAPER.—COTTONS & BARNARD, 184 Washington st., have just received a small case of Colored Rice Paper, which they can sell low by the thousand or single hundred. n14

CARRAGEE, OR IRISH MOSS. 4 crates of this much esteemed article, with directions for use, just received direct from Ireland, and for sale in parcels to suit purchasers, by HENSHAW & CO, 23 Granite stores, Commercial wharf. d10

COGNAC BRANDY.—10 half pipes, "A. Seignette" brand, now landing from sch Cambridge, and entitled to drawback—for sale by JAMES LEEDS, Jr. & CO. 18 Long wharf. nov 11

DAMAGED LACES.—ELIAB STONE BREWER has received from New York, 1 case of Grecian and Bohemian Lace, consisting of 30 prs blk Bobbinet, 50 prs superfine Grecian, 25 prs fig'd Bobbinet, 25 prs plain do. The above is slightly damaged, and will be sold very low at 114 Washington st. ist—d18

ELEGANT PAINT BOXES.—COTTONS & BARNARD, corner of Franklin and Washington st. have for sale, Newman & Osborne's Water Colors, in mahogany boxes—Nos 12, 18 & 24—with Lock, Drawer, Pallets, Slabs, Brushes, &c. 5w d23

ELEGANT ENGLISH BIBLES AND TESTAMENTS, various sizes and bindings, suitable for Presents—for sale by COTTONS & BARNARD, corner of Franklin and Washington streets. d25

FRIENDSHIP'S OFFERING AND WINTER'S WREATH.—A Christmas and New Year's present for 1835—for sale by MARSH, CAPEN & LYON, 133 Washington street. d1

FRENCH FOULAR CALICOES.—One case Kaleidoscope Patterns, very rich—just received on consignment, and for sale low by E. K. WHITAKER. nov 10 epist

GIN, BRANDY AND WINE.—25 pipes Holland Gin, "Weesp" and "Imperial" brand—15 pipes and halves Cognac Brandy, "Bell-voisin" brand—pipes, halves and quarts Siciy Madeira wine, for sale by JAMES LEEDS, Jr. & CO, 18 Long wharf. d1

JUST RECEIVED a splendid assortment of Boston made Stocks, far superior to any thing ever offered for sale in this market. Also, 2 cases of Umbrellas, beautiful patterns. oct 6 NATHL P. SNELLING, 10 Congress street

LADIES' CLOAKS.—The subscriber will open this morning, 2 cases French Cloaks, of new fabrics and designs—which will be sold at exact cost of importation. oct 29 epist

LADIES' GOLD CHAINS.—A fresh supply of the most fashionable gold chains just received at A. CUTLER'S, No 217 Washington street, opposite Franklin street. d19

LADIES' FRENCH TASSELS.—J. G. WYMAN has received, 1 case, 36 and 48 State street, where he sells, direct from Paris, of assorted colors and rich and beautiful styles. 71 Washington street. d20

LUCIFER MATCHES.—A fresh supply of the Genuine Lucifer Matches, just received. oct 11

MORE NEW CRAVATS.—1 case rich English Silk Cravats, received this day—Nov 22—of entire new and fashionable patterns. n24 J. G. WYMAN, 71 Washington st.

NATHANIEL P. SNELLING, No 10 Congress st. will make to order, if called for soon, a few pieces of Cloths, well adapted for suits, in the most fashionable manner, for $20. oct 6

NOTICE.—All persons having demands against me are requested to present them for immediate payment, at my Brush Manufactory, No 19 Exchange street, Boston. oct 19 JOHN G. MCMURRAY.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1834.

We have copied from the New York Mirror, upon our First Page, a "Scene from an unfinished Play, by J. Sheridan Knowles." It is characterized by all the brilliancy of thought, and energy of expression, which distinguish the productions of Mr. K. The Mirror is rich in literary wealth, this week; its enterprising publisher merits the liberal reward he receives for his labors.

Judge Thatcher and his Charges.—Judge Thatcher says in his last charge—

"While I congratulate you, that this city, during the past year, has been so eminently free from popular commotion, and that it has enjoyed, under the wise and faithful administration of its admirable government, the advantages of good order; a tendency to popular violence has shown itself in other cities of the Union, where the lives and property of citizens have been wantonly sacrificed."

The Judge then pours forth some pages upon the enormity of the transaction in burning the Convent—the says—

"But in the destruction of the Ursuline Convent it was seen, that a portion of the people could wage war, equally against political liberty, the sacred rights of property, and religious charity."

We subscribe most heartily to the truth of many of the Judge's remarks respecting the burning of the Convent, but we must also say, that the time and the place chosen to make them, were most inappropriate. This crime was committed in another county, and out of the jurisdiction of the Judge's Court. The authorities upon whom the law devolved the prosecution and trial of these criminals, had been and were still in the performance of their duties. The prisoners at the time of publishing this charge, were on trial, and so far as a charge of this kind, clothed in its official judicial form, could have effect, it was calculated to harm, or aid in convicting, the prisoners. It was likewise an improper interference with the duties of the court which was trying the prisoners.

If the Judge desired to correct errors, to reform the public morals, and to check political heresies, could he not find a field for his labors at home, within his own jurisdiction? He says of our own city—"While I congratulate you that this city, during the past year, has been so eminently free from popular commotion, and that it has enjoyed, under the wise and faithful administration of its admirable government, the advantages of good order," &c. "However a good citizen may wish to throw a veil (to use the language of the Judge again) over the faults of his countrymen," it was inexcusable in him to make the assertion in reference to this city, that it had been eminently free from popular commotion the past year. If it be necessary to conceal or misrepresent facts for the purpose of casting a veil over these faults, we think it an occupation that no really good citizen, or one having just moral sentiments, would follow. We should think it more the duty of a good and moral citizen to expose, for the purpose of correcting, the faults of his countrymen.

So far from this statement of the Judge being true, as to this city, we think it just the reverse of truth. Never within our recollection, has there been a year when the city of Boston has exhibited so much popular agitation and popular commotion—when the laws of the land—the rights of the citizens, and the usages of this community, have been so shamelessly outraged, as during the last year.

In the first place, there was the panic, got up by designing men for the purpose of cheating the people of their political rights, and of overawing the government. It was a scheme, too, by which the rich were enabled to plunder those who were in debt.

The Judge justly condemns the burning of the Convent, under cover of which the incendiaries carried on their robbery—under cover of the panic, many a man here who aided it, plundered his neighbors; and are not the latter, in a moral view, equally polluted as the former? Let God be their judge. But these are "faults" over which Judge Thatcher seems to have been disposed "to throw a veil." He seems to be the rich man's advocate, and the poor man's judge.

There were indeed other matters which we should have supposed might have attracted the attention of a just judge, of one who was not "disposed to throw a veil over the faults of his countrymen," alias his party.

The opponents of the panic, of the Bank, and of those political principles which the Judge has not considered "heretical," held a meeting, as they had a right to do, last March, in Faneuil Hall, for the purpose of expressing, in a public and in the usual way, their sentiments against the Bank, and in favor of the supremacy of the laws. The partisans of what the Judge considers the orthodox political faith, came to the meeting, and, a thing unheard of before in this good city, attended by violence to break it up, and to drive the friends of the country from the place. That Democratic meeting owed it to its own nerve and decision, and not "to the wise and faithful administration of the city government," however wise and faithful it may have been, that that nefarious object was not accomplished. And that democracy will in future, as it did then, stand true to its own resolution and power, than either to the city government or the Municipal Court, for protection.

After this, came the exploit of cutting off the figure head from the Constitution, a feat planned and paid for, and applauded, if not performed by, the politically orthodox, according to the Judge's creed—even the gentility of this city—and, if pretty well authenticated rumor is to be credited, this victory was celebrated by a public supper, where the decapitated head was brought, in a charger, before the Bank Emperor Nicholas, as the head of John the Baptist was brought, in a charger, before Herod, king of the Jews, at the request of that harlot Herodias.

This daring outrage upon public property—this insult to the whole American people—this act which offered an immediate and apt example for the burning of the Convent, was not of sufficient moment, it seems, to attract even the vigilant eye of Judge Thatcher—it was not "a political heresy" that he felt called upon "to check."

We pass by the institution of that formidable body composed of the sages and warriors of the city, so solemnly appointed and authoritatively announced, the COMMITTEE OF PUBLIC SAFETY, and its arduous and patriotic labors, "in these revolutionary times," which would seem to contradict the assertion of this

Judge, that "the faithful administration of the city government" had kept good order—we pass by this, and many other minor acts, which the Judge has overlooked, for the purpose of calling his attention to the outrages of his party at the recent election. Never before within our recollection has the city been insulted by the inflammatory public harangues of a despicable and abandoned political profligate, one, though clothed in honors, yet covered with infamy, and stirred up to riot. Never before within our recollection, have the homes and firesides of our citizens been outraged by mobs on account of the political opinion of those citizens. Never before have such infamous and lawless riots disgraced the character of this city. And yet we suppose from the Judge's charge, that "as a good citizen" he wished "to throw a veil over," as he would designate these, "the faults" of his party. We have little respect for such morbid morality—little veneration for such one-sided justice.

It would have been better, we think, for the Judge, if he had thought proper from the bench to cast his guardian care beyond the duties of his station, to have called public attention to these outrages at home, and to have suggested a remedy, instead of pointing to riots and disorders in distant cities. It were better to pull the beam from his own, than to pick the mote from a brother's eye. But if he chose to go to those cities, and reprimand them for their sins, why not explore their origin and point distinctly to their source? Why not put his finger upon this or that individual, and say—"Thou art the man." Why did he not allude to the declaration of Mr. Clay, the beginning of this reign of violence, made in the Senate a year since, "that we are in the midst of a revolution, bloodless as yet"—to the harangue of Horace Binney, in which he said, to secure the renewal of the Bank monopoly, "force would be used if necessary"—to the speech of Daniel Webster on the same occasion, that "in revolutionary times there were no Sabbaths," and therefore, he disregarded the observance of the Sabbath? To that daring and infamous declaration, of the designs of the Bank party, made by that renegade man, the noted London banker, "That the working men of America should take the paper money of the U. S. Bank—that they, the Bank party, would hire a portion of these men to shoot the residue—and force them to accept a government fit for a gentleman to live under"—Why did he not the learned Judge point to these as the source of the violence and outrages of which he complains, as well as of those to which we have alluded? Did he wish "to cast a veil" over these acts of his party—or were they considered not "heresies" that he wished "to check?"

What is there like a good old fashioned Snow Storm—such an one as visited us yesterday—for reminding one, "bred in the country," of his early life. How many joyous scenes does it recall, revelled in from the age of a smiling school-boy, to that of a pseudo man, who strokes

"The soft down that grows o'er his chin," and smiles with astonishment, that his elders should be found hardly his equals in knowledge and (constructive) experience.

But who that has ever participated in the glories of a country sleigh-ride, can forget its pleasures: the pretty girls, with their rosy cheeks and sweet lips—the bounding steed—the jingling bells—the merry laugh—the jest—the song—and last, not least, the glowing fire and the smoking board—not with here and there a dish upon it, with a mere apology for a tenant, looking as if it had run a race with father time and conquered, and only serving to remind one of the "dreary waste around," but—covered completely with substantial, studded with the gems of an inexhaustible larder, sufficiently tempting to shake the faith of the strongest Grahamite in Chistendom—who, we ask, that has ever participated in such cheer, can witness a storm like that of yesterday, without his mouth watering for some of those bounties which, at the time, though dearly loved, were not deservedly prized?

The Eagle Engine was drawn through Washington street, yesterday, on the pavements, by a horse and some thirty men. Pedestrians upon that side of the street were driven into the snow quite unceremoniously—this was excessively agreeable, as it was not more than two feet deep.

Municipal.—At a meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen on Monday:

The committee who were instructed to consider the subject of standing committees of the Board of Aldermen, reported, that in their opinion the business of the board will be more easily managed, and the public interests more effectually promoted, by appointing, in lieu of the usual committees on the several districts, standing committees on the subjects which most commonly require the attention of the board, and for this purpose they propose that the following should be the standing committees, viz:

1. On the external Health Department, including quarantine; 2. On the internal Health Department; 3. On the Fire Department and Reservoirs; 4. On the Jail, House of Correction, Reformation, and Industry; 5. On laying out and widening Streets; 6. On paving and repair of Streets; 7. On Common Sewers and Drains; 8. On Police of City; 9. On Licensed Houses and Exhibitions; 10. On Public Buildings; 11. On the Market; 12. On Common, Malls, Cops, and Forts; 13. On Burial Grounds; 14. On Lamps, Bells, and Clocks; 15. On County Accounts. Report accepted, and the order for the appointment of such committee referred to the next board.

A communication was received from Ebenezer Bailey, resigning the office of Director of the House of Reformation; from John C. Green, Jr., declining a re-election as engineer of the Fire Department.

Chapter of Accidents.—Whilst the laborers were at work, on Monday, under the high embankment at East Boston, an avalanche of earth buried two men: one of them was soon dug out alive, but severely hurt; the other was not found for an hour, and when discovered, he was dead, and in a shocking state, nearly all the bones of his body being broken; he was an Irishman; his name we have not heard.

A gentleman, about seventy years of age, crossing from the corner of Park street to the state house, during the early part of the storm on Monday evening, was knocked down and run over by a hackney coachman, who was driving furiously. Some young gentlemen were fortunately passing at the time, who went to his assistance, and carried him home. When taken up, he was unable to walk.—Transcript.

A fire broke out at noon [yesterday], in a building used as a storehouse for lime, occupied by Messrs Warren & Roby, wood wharfingers, Haverhill street; it was occasioned by the high rise of tide bringing the water in contact with the lime: it was subdued, after much exertion, without communicating to the lumber.—Id.

POLICE COURT.

An almost Fatal Mistake.—Edward Morgan was the romantic name of a "saucy able" youth, with sandy locks, who was arraigned for committing an assault on the privileged person of a watchman. To this charge he was understood to have pleaded, in a thick, mumbling tone, guilty, by the Court, Clerk, and Constable, who constituted at the time the entire public, who were present at his trial. It is customary, in the Police Court, even in cases where the culprit pleads guilty, to examine a witness, in order to ascertain the quantity of Court-plaster to apply to the patient; and in the present case, the "assault, with force and arms," complained of, consisted in Ned's calling the Charley a "tarter emetic," and not the provoking physical and purgative nick-names! Now the Court always manifests a very commendable courtesy in accommodating the watchees—even to "the straining at a gnat," in favor of their prisoners, and "the swallowing of a saw-mill," in favor of the captors; but his honor could not bolt the bitter pill of deciding that, to call a man a dose of medicine, was to knock him down, though it might give him qualms in the stomach—a not unfrequent symptom following a knock down, especially when inflicted by Hagar, the first cousin to Sam Shoe, the brother-in-law and in spirit to Miss Ginny White-Eye. But here was a dilemma—Ned's plea of "Guilty," was duly recorded—and a falsification of the record was not to be thought of for a moment—so the fine axe was about to fall on him, just as he began to think he was getting into a scrape, when his dormant faculties became aroused, and making a desperate effort, he rolled the "mitten from his tongue," and articulated, with some show of energy—"I did not say guilty, by a small few," and he was accordingly acquitted. In answer to the Court, he called himself "a piece of a carpenter, and had done a little at it." What the "little at it" is, he did not say; but it is to be hoped that it is not the same kind of journey-work spoken of by the boy, who replied to a man who asked him if his father was a deacon—"No, he aint a deacon yet; but he did a little at it once, for he stole a hen!"

Trial of the Convent Rioters.—The Hon. Judge Monton concluded his charge to the Jury, in the cases of P. P. Pond, Alvah Kelly, Isaac Parker, and Marvin Marcy, Jr., now on trial, before the Supreme Judicial Court, about 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon. The subsequent proceedings of the Court which follow, we obtain from Briggs' Bulletin:—

"The Court met at three o'clock, and at four, the jury not having agreed, the Court adjourned to nine o'clock this morning."

Nathaniel Budd, Jr., son of Mr Budd, a Baker in this city, against whom a bill was found some time ago, gave himself up yesterday; and was subsequently discharged on $5000 bail, to appear at the next term of the Court at Concord."

A pair of paragraphs from pretty precise papers.—Transcript.
Ruiz, one of the pirates, still remains deranged—a perfect picture of wretchedness.—Post, Dec. 30th, 1834.

Ruiz, the pirate, is completely recovered from his temporary derangement.—Centinel, Dec. 30th, 1834.

The Post is precisely right—Ruiz remains insane—or, at least, apparently so.—Dec. 31, 1834.

A queer excuse.—A western editor says that the poor appearance of his paper is owing to the badness of the roads.

French Claims.—Statements have appeared in various papers of both parties, founded upon information derived from France, in which it is alleged to be the general impression in that country, that the Chambers do not intend to make any appropriation for the payment of our claims, and that if our government does not take measures to enforce a compliance with the stipulations of their treaty with us, the money never will be paid. The strong probability is, that the President was well informed upon the subject as any other individual could have been, and supposing this to be the fact, it must be obvious to every intelligent and patriotic mind that it was his duty to notice the subject in the manner he has done, unless it is supposed that he should have been willing to see our national rights trampled upon, and our national honor made the sport and ridicule of the world. Any one who feels no regard for the honor of the country, and is willing to sacrifice it rather than run the risk of sustaining it by a war with that country, may regret and condemn the course of the President; but those who are disposed to see our rights and honor maintained at every necessary hazard must regard the course of the President as such as becomes his character, and the station he occupies at the head of a great, a high-minded, and free people.—Balt. Rep.

Fire.—On Saturday evening, between five and six o'clock, a wooden building attached to the Chemical Laboratory in North Salem, and which contained the Lead Chamber for the manufacture of Sulphuric Acid, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was immediately given, and the flames were confined to the building in which the fire originated, and a portion of an adjoining building. The whole amount of property destroyed, it is stated, will not exceed $600. The fire is supposed to have been caused by a defect in the chimney.—Register.

Compliment to Captain Howard.—On Friday evening, several articles of silver plate were presented to Capt Howard of the Revenue cutter McLean, by W. Sturgis, Esq. in behalf of a number of merchants who had subscribed for their purchase. The waiter, teapot, sugar dish, cream pot, &c. were made by Messrs J. B. Jones & Co. and are beautiful specimens of American workmanship: they cost about $300. The ceremony of presentation took place at the Exchange Coffee House, where a collation was prepared for the occasion.—Traveller.

British Court of Chancery.—Lord Brougham, on retiring lately from the Court of Chancery, on his resignation as its head, said, "I have now disposed of all the cases that have been heard before me, and I have the great satisfaction of reflecting that this Court, represented by its enemies as the temple of discord, delay and expense, has been twice closed, within the space of five months, by the completion of the business before it."

How to sober a tipsy man.—A publication, called "The Doctor," gives the following recipe:

"To sober a man, give him any mild vegetable acid, such as lemon juice diluted with an equal quantity of water, and keep him, if possible, from talking."

Perhaps it is the acid principle that makes whiskey punch so popular about these days, because a man may enjoy a greater number of glasses without getting seriously fuddled. But the recommendation in the recipe, to keep the patient from 'talking,' seems to us quite superfluous, as long as he has 'a mitten on his tongue.'—N. Y. Trans.

Cure for a defect in the Palate.—Most of our readers have undoubtedly met with cases of defective palates, where the voice is unpleasantly affected—and have sympathized with the unfortunate individuals, who have been thus affected. A very bad case of this kind occurred in the person of Mr. Harbach, a young gentleman of Worcester, who has recently applied to many medical men for relief. His case, however, was particularly unfortunate, there being a division of the uvula, and also of the roof of the mouth—inasmuch as it was with difficulty he could make himself understood. He was finally advised to apply to George H. Gay, Surgeon Dentist, of this city, with the assurance that if skill and gentility could relieve him, Mr. Gay could do it. This gentleman undertook the case, and has succeeded in finishing a roof and palate of beaten gold, which of course, covers the palate, and is fastened to the upper teeth, in such a manner that it can be removed at pleasure. It was attached to the mouth on Saturday, and Mr. H. already experiences its great utility—and there is little doubt that in the course of a few weeks his voice will be entirely restored.—Mercantile Journal.

We learn from the Bunker Hill Aurora, that Jabez W. Barton, well known as the gentlemanly proprietor of the Lynn Mineral Spring Hotel, has taken a lease of the "Maverick House" at East Boston, which will be finished and put in complete order for opening early next Spring.—Merc. Jour.

REVIEW OF THE BOSTON MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING TUESDAY, DECEMBER 30.

ASRES.—The supplies of both descriptions are very limited. In consequence of which a further advance has taken place.—There have been sales of 1000 lbs of No. 1, and 1000 lbs of No. 2, at $1.50. Some holders are asking an advance on these rates.

BARILLA.—Sales of a late importation from Sicily of 14 tons at $60 per ton, cash.

BEANS.—Sales at $1.87 1/2 a $2.12 1/2 per bushel.

CANDLES.—Sales of Boston Sperma to the extent of 5 or 600 boxes, at 23c 6 mos., and some Moulds at quotations.

COAL.—There have been no large sales of foreign this week. Sales by auction, 150 tons Newcastle, at 17 1/2 a 18 1/2; 50 tons, 150 tons, and one or two cargoes Anthracite at $3 per ton.

CORDAGE.—The stock has been increased by further importations, and the demand very limited.

COFFE.—Part of a late importation of Rio has been taken up at 1 1/4 per lb—a small lot of superior green at 12c—and 500 lbs of Java at 10 1/2 a 10 3/4 per lb, 6 mos. The sale of part of the Henry Tule's cargo, advertised for auction this day, is postponed.

COTTON.—The late advices from England has produced more firmness in the article. The sales consist of about 400 bales of 40s and 42s, taken by merchants, at 17 1/2 a 18 1/2 for Up-lands, and 17 1/2 a 18 1/2 for Alabama and New Orleans.

FLY-STUFFS.—There have been but few transactions in Indigo, and the article remains without change. Woods are in good demand; sales 50 tons Nicaragua at $55—50 do St Domingo Logwood at $17—and a lot of Hicah-wood $30 per ton.

FRUITS.—The late speculative operations and an increased demand has produced more firmness for most articles, and some sales have been made at improved prices.

FISH.—The principal supplies being in the hands of speculators, who require an advance on our late reported prices, the sales have been rather limited.

About 1500 qts Bank Fish have been taken on arrival, at 2 1/2 per qt—and some Hake at 1 1/2.

Mackerel continues more firm, but sales have been rather limited. Output inspection have been sold in lots of 4, 5 and 8, at 10 1/2 a 11 1/2 per lb.

FLOUR.—A decided improvement has taken place in the market for Genesee, in consequence of the rather limited supply for the season, and the unfavorable state of the weather for early arrivals—sales have been made at 5 1/2 a 5 3/4 per bu, part on 60 ds cr.

South River continues dull of sale, particularly the more common qualities—and prices are without change. There is no stock of Ohio of any consequence yet in market.

FRUIT.—At the close of last week nearly all the Malaga Fruit was taken from first hands on speculation, at 5 1/2 a 5 3/4 per bu, and the market for Black Mark, do, and boxes Bunch at 2 1/2 a 2 3/4 per box.

Part of the above have been shipped to New York, and prices have since improved—but no sales of any importance have been made at the advance required.

Part of the cargo of Brig Socorro, from Sicily, was offered by auction—2000 lbs oranges sold at 2 1/2 a 2 3/4; 150 do Lemons sold at 5 1/2 a 5 3/4 per bu—400 lbs English Walnuts, 6 1/2 per lb. The principal part of the above cargo had been previously shipped to the south Sea Islands.

On the 29th inst. a small lot of rather small, and prices have advanced—sales Yellow Flat Corn at 7 1/2—and White do at 7 1/2 per bush—and Northern rounded at 80c.

On the 29th inst. a small lot of rather small, and prices have advanced—sales Yellow Flat Corn at 7 1/2—and White do at 7 1/2 per bush—and Northern rounded at 80c.

Rye is in good demand—sales at 83c per bush—and Barley at 63 a 65c.

At the close of our report, the market, for all kinds of Grain, is more firm, and prices are without change.

HIDES.—The late improvement in prices is fully sustained, and small sales have been made at quotations.

HOPS.—This article is in better demand—sales of two cargoes at $14 a 15 per ton.

IRONS.—The foreign advices are unfavorable for the article, in consequence of which prices are lower, and but few buyers in market.

LUMBER.—Further sales Swedes and New Sable have been made, and holders are more firm.

LINE.—In good demand—sales at 97 a 100 per bush.

LUMBER.—Continues in good demand—sales of several cargoes at quotations.

MAHOGANY.—Sales of St Domingo at quotations.

MALAGA.—There have been no further arrivals of this article since our last principally of distilling qualities, and some sales have been made at a reduction on former prices. The quantity of retained in first hands is now considerably reduced, and the stock of distilling is not large. The whole stock of first hands is about 2000 lbs. The chief of the week consist of 500 lbs Havana, part at 24 c 6 mos., and terms of part not transpired, 200 do Trinidad a 26 c and Surinam a 25 c per gal, 6 mos.

OILS.—Sperma are well sustained—some sales Olive at 1,08 a 1,10, and Sperm at 1,08 a 1,10 per gal—1,000 lbs—White and Yellow—sales at 1,08 a 1,10 per gal. There have been no further importations of Lard and limited sales at 1,00 per gal.

PROVISIONS.—Limited sales Beef at 10,50 at 10,75 per bbl for Mess and 8,75 at 9,00 for No 1—Boston Lard has been taken at 9 c and Pork at our quotations.

RICE.—Sales of some lots common quality, for shipping, at 3c, and some good at 3 1/2 per lb.

SUGAR.—All the sugar sales have been taken from first hands, at 8 1/2 a 9c per lb, for whites, and 8 1/2 a 9c per lb, for browns, at 7 1/2 a 8c per lb.

TALLOW.—Sales of a cargo of 81 lbs sold at $2,37 1/2 per hoghead, cash. Other descriptions little doing, and no change in prices.

SALT-PETRE.—Sales of a lot ordinary crude at 5 1/2 a 6c, and good do at 5 1/2 a 6c, per lb, 6 mos.

WACCO.—Sales Kentucky lard at 9 a 9 1/2 per pound, 6 mos.

WOOL.—Prices for fleece and pulled wools are well supported, and extensive sales have been made at former reported rates. In other descriptions not much doing, and prices remain the same.

PHRENOLOGICAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Boston Phrenological Society, will be held to-morrow, at 7 o'clock, P. M., at the Society's Room, for the choice of Officers.

At 7 o'clock, P. M., the Annual Address will be delivered by the Rev. G. Bradburn, at the Boylston Hall—admission free.

NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH.—A meeting of the subscribers to the New Episcopal Church, in the western part of the city, will be held at the School House in Derne street (lower room), at 7 o'clock, on Monday, at half past seven o'clock.

New two thirds of the estimated cost of the Land and Building, has been already subscribed, and any persons who may be disposed to aid towards completing the Building Fund, or who feel interested in the success of the undertaking, are invited to attend this meeting.

MASS. CHARITABLE MECHANIC ASSOCIATION.—Lecture at 7 o'clock, on Tuesday, by Dr. Charles T. Jackson. Subject—Geology.

BOSTON SOCIETY FOR THE DIFFUSION OF USEFUL KNOWLEDGE.—The Lectures before the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge, will commence at the Masonic Temple, on Thursday, 30th inst, at 7 o'clock, P. M.

The managers having found that the method pursued for the last two years of having a connected series of lectures on one interesting subject, instead of disconnected lectures by different lecturers, has met the approbation of the Society, have adopted the same method for the ensuing season. And they have great satisfaction in stating that the course will commence with a series of lectures by the Hon. Caleb Cushing, on "The Civilization and Social State of Modern Christendom"—embracing the Government, Religion, Moral Culture, Science, Literature, Art, Social Institutions, Industry, Property, Crime, Military Relations and Manners, of the civilized nations of Europe and America.

The further arrangements will be hereafter announced. DANIEL WEBSTER, President.

STEAMBOAT BANGOR.—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Steamboat Bangor, for the choice of Directors, will be held on the first Monday of January next, at 3 o'clock, P. M. at the Exchange Coffee House, in Boston, at 120.

JOB PRINTING, OF EVERY VARIETY, NEATLY, QUICKLY, AND CHEAPLY EXECUTED AT THIS OFFICE.

MARRIED.
In this city, on Thursday evening, by Rev Dr. Jenks, Joseph T. Orne to Almira Johnson.
In South Boston, on Sunday evening, by Rev Mr. Ballou, of Stoughton, Thomas Pollock to Elizabeth G. Richardson.
In Plymouth, Captain E. Stephens Bartlett, to Eline G. daughter of Salisbury Jackson.

DIED.
In Cambridge, Elizabeth Norton, 91.
In Salem Harbor, on Thursday evening, of consumption, on board schr Oak Hill, George Sevey, merchant, of East Machias, Me. He had come to Boston to purchase goods, and was on his return home.
In Amherst, Mrs Jerusha, widow of Rev Pearson Thurston, 69, a native of Newburyport.
In Bridgewater, Miss Lavina, daughter of Calvin Washburn, 16 years.

IMPORTATIONS.
ROTTERDAM—Brig Hollander—72 casks madder—200 barrels, 200 jars linseed oil, 10,036 lumps pipe clay—2 cases cologne—4 cases hoes—6 cases mds—90 pipes gin—3 cases mustard seed—9 cases Marbles—100 bbls steel—1 box, 2 baskets bulbs.

SHIP-NEWS—1834.
PORT OF BOSTON—DECEMBER 30, 1834.
CLEARED.
Brig Cordelia, Ever, Trinidad, by B Burgess & Son, in order.

At Hamburg 18th Nov, ship Brookline, Pierce, for East Indies 10.

PORTSMOUTH Dec 27—old sch Francis L. Kennedy, Secy, Wilmington N.C.

NEW YORK Dec 27—cleared ship Albion, Putnam, Liverpool; brig Lexington, Perry, N Orleans; s.s. Kelly, do; Mary, Chase, Montego Bay Jam; Helen Mar, Giam, Jamaica; Boston, and Trio, Boston.

PHILADELPHI, Dec 27—ar ship Chandler Price, New Orleans.

Br bark Elizabeth, London. In lat 27, lon 65, fell in with the wreck of sch Maria Louisa, of Richmond, no one on board, blowing a gale, could not board her.

Brigs Eliza, King, Havana, 12; Echo, and Ella, Boston; sch Leander, do.

BAITMORE, Dec 26—ar brig Gambia, Gray, Gibraltar; Flight, Porto Cabello.

NORFOLK Dec 22—at Seawall's Point, bg Pocket, Howes Tennifer, for New York.

FOR CHARLESTON, S. C.
A first rate vessel is now loading and will sail in a few days. For freight or passage apply to JAMES ANDREWS & SON, d27—istw No 8 Central whf.

FOR APALACHICOLA.
A fast sailing brig will have despatch—for freight or passage, apply to JAMES ANDREWS & SON, 8 Central whf. 1stc d12

FOR BUCKSPORT AND BANGOR.
WITH DESPATCH.
The scht JANE, Capt Miller, will sail as above—for freight, apply to SETH E. BENSON, No 42 Commercial street. d30

FOR BELFAST AND CAMDEN.
WITH DESPATCH.
The scht PRESIDENT JACKSON, Capt E. Cross, will sail as above—for freight or passage, apply to S. E. BENSON, No 42 Commercial street, or to the master on board, opposite. d29</

Also, Ken E. Clark, No 4 Brattle square.
Bills collected by U. J. CLARK, No 4 Brattle square.
EGV 1